TEDx Sapporo

(知能数理研究分野)

The screenshot shows the TEDx Sapporo website profile for Jun Hoshino. At the top, there are navigation links for Japanese and English. The profile includes a photo of Hoshino, his name in Japanese (中垣 俊之), and his title as Professor of Mathematical and Physical Ethology Lab. A detailed biography in Japanese follows, mentioning his birth in 1963, his education at Hokkaido University, and his research interests in slime molds and physical phenomena. To the right, there is a short English bio. Below the bio is a 'Speaker Overview' section with a video thumbnail of Hoshino speaking at the event. The video title is 'The significance of being unique - what slime molds tell us...' and the thumbnail includes the text '公明 こだて未来大学 高木 二准教授による' and 'Sapporo'.
